Family Weekend at Emiquon Field Station

*Public Invited.
Appropriate for those comfortable hiking & canoeing.*

Saturday, September 27 & Sunday, September 28

Kristy Boggs, biology instructor, at Spoon River College will guide participants through two days of fun and exploration at the Emiquon preserve. Hiking, canoeing, a tour of Dickson Mounds State Museum, and star gazing are among the planned activities. Begins at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, September 27 and concludes at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, September 28. All meals included! Children must attend with an adult!

The Emiquon Preserve is over 7,000 acres of lake, wetland, prairie, and woodland recently restored by The Nature Conservancy as part of the Illinois River rehabilitation project. Located in Fulton County, Emiquon is known as the jewel of the Illinois River valley. The Emiquon Field Station is managed by the University of Illinois at Springfield.

$20.00 per person
